Biography

Founder/President, Mira Tzur

MIRA TZUR (Founder/President, One Circle Productions) Mira Tzur founded One Circle Productions to acquire, develop and produce full-length screen and theatrical works. She champions thought-provoking and reflective pieces of original drama, comedy and documentary that bring distinct and unique voices to the forefront.

Born and raised in Herzeliya, Israel, she began her career as a dancer, having been accepted into the prestigious Talma Yalin Performing Arts School with sponsorship from the American Israel Culture Foundation (AICF). This led to engagements with the world-renowned Bat Sheva Dance Company and, while still continuing her arts education, she fulfilled obligations as a member of the Israeli Armed Forces, employed as an Intelligence Officer. Ms. Tzur received a professional dance scholarship to study at New York City's famed Ballet Art's School and moved to the United States to continue her training and further her professional career in dance and movement.

In New York City, Ms. Tzur was cast in Broadway, Off-Broadway and national tour productions and transitioned quickly into television and film roles. She also continued her education with studies at New York University and the Atlantic Theater. Ms. Tzur became a series regular on Comedy Central's long-running Viva Variety show and, as a licensed sports nutrition/fitness professional, she became a national spokesperson for Everlast and Converse Women's Apparel Group. Ms. Tzur has appeared in such films as Stepford Wives, The Devil Wears Prada and The Last Dance. Television roles include Rescue Me, 30 Rock, Fringe and How To Make It In America.

As a producer, Ms. Tzur formed Multi Ethnix Entertainment Group and produced cabaret dance performances, fashion shoots, and commercial/fitness infomercials. With the creation of One Circle Productions, Ms. Tzur continues to make waves in the entertainment industry. Moved by the subject matter and the message of Naomi Ragen's Women's Minyan, she attained the exclusive theatrical rights to perform the play in New York City. Currently in pre-production for Women's Minyan, Ms. Tzur intends to bring this important dramatic piece to Broadway audiences. Other upcoming projects with One Circle Productions include a documentary on the Bali Children's Project and a feature length comedy, Taking The Stand, with Priority Films.
